

Fitz Brothers

MEDIAKIT 2025

Fitz Brothers are an Austrian pop/indie duo formed by brothers Florian and Felix Fitz.

After years of separate musical paths, from solo projects to various bands, they joined forces to create a sound that blends catchy pop melodies with emotional depth and cinematic storytelling.

With songs like "Golden Trees," "Masterpiece," and "Maybe it was love" the duo has built a growing fanbase and now reaches over 12,000 monthly listeners on Spotify. Their music explores themes of self-discovery, human connection, and vulnerability carried by warm harmonies, heartfelt lyrics, and an unmistakable chemistry only brothers can share.

Debut Album

Light Life Love

Light Life Love is the debut album by Austrian brothers Felix and Florian Sebastian Fitz.

Ten songs about love, relationships, and the light in life, blending pop, folk, indie, and cinematic sounds into an emotional journey.

With acoustic guitars, synths, and orchestral textures, the FitzBrothers create an atmosphere that invites listeners to feel and reflect.

The standout single "Call Me A Liar" captures themes of conflict, anger, and reconciliation.

Released on September 26, 2025, Light Life Love marks a milestone for the duo, honest, heartfelt, and full of color.
